

Competency

5/96/2012

5 Strategic Gaps in Enterprise Innovation Activity and Some Ways to Overcome. Dr. A.A. Nikonova, Senior Staff Scientist, Central Economic Mathematical Institute, RAS, Moscow

The problems in long term innovation decision making for enterprise acting in situation of uncertainty, internal restrictions and external risk are considered. Some types of possible gaps in strategic process are investigated. Enterprise adaptive abilities are quite significant to overcome all these gaps. The given work is done on Russian humanitarian scientific fund financial support, project № 11–02–00227a

Key words: innovation strategy, decision making, uncertainty, strategic goals, difference of interests, weapons of stabilization

13 Competence and Social Expertise of the Projects. Dr. A.F. Prostov, Co-chairman, Non-commercial Partnership, National Unit of National Experts, Moscow, Dr. B.V. Gagarin, Deputy Director, Coordination and Analysis Exhibition Center, FSI, Research Institute, Russian Research and Coordination Center of Expertise (FSI RI RRCCE)

New approach to the social expertise realization is given. Synergetic trinity of the concepts management, projects, and expertise is settled down. With the help of them models and technologies that help planning events and rise management efficiency and competitiveness of any system are made

Key words: competence matrix, political cybernetics, social expertise, substance trinity, energy and information, expert project management

20 R&D Work Valuation in the Field of Personal and Social Safety. Prof. Dr. V.A. Akimov, Head, Federal State Institution, Scientific Research Institute for Civil Defense and Emergency Situations, Ministry of Emergency Situations of Russia, (FSI RRI CDES), Professor, Honored Scientist of Russian Federation, Moscow, Prof. Dr. R.A. Durnev, Deputy Head, FSI RRI CDES, Associate Professor, Moscow, I.V. Jdanenko, Senior Staff Scientist, FSI RRI CDES), Moscow

Procedure of scientific work evaluation in the field of personal and social safety according to scientific results quality rating, work stages and factors that influence working hours is discussed in the final article

Key words: personal and social safety, procedure, labour–output ratio, stages, scientific tasks, factors, quality indicators

28 The Essence of Outsourcing as an Organizational and Economic Phenomenon. Dr. I.D. Kotlyarov, Associate Professor, Department of Financial Market and Financial Management, Research Institute, Higher School of Economics, St. Petersburg

The definition of outsourcing and a list of main differences between outsourcing and other forms of interfirm cooperation are on consideration in the present article. It also contains a list of classifications of outsourcing based on different criteria

Key words: outsourcing, subcontracting, classification

36 Labour Efficiency as a Life Quality Improvement Factor. Prof. Dr. A.E. Khachaturov, Head of Department, Management and Marketing, D.I. Mendeleev University of Chemical Technology of Russia (MUCTR), Moscow, A.V. Golubev, Graduate, Management and Marketing Department, MUCTR, Moscow

The article considers new approaches to the improvement of labour efficiency. Limitations of such a term as labour productivity are underlined. Measurements methods for labour productivity are discussed. A new classification of factors and indicators of life quality is developed. It is demonstrated that labour efficiency provides for the high level of satisfaction by the results of work for all stakeholders, which contributes towards the improvement of life quality in the society as a whole

Key words: labour efficiency; labour productivity; level of satisfaction by the results of work for all stakeholders; classification of factors and indicators of life quality; life quality

42 Effective Management and Traceability Support. Dr. Yu.A. Bogomolov, Professor, ASMS, Moscow

The author tells about the Federal law on traceability support, its international obligations and national interests in the context of the past and present. The comparison between statutory provisions of the year 1993 and 2008 is made. Concrete recommendations to rise the efficiency of legislative management are made

Key words: traceability, measurements, measuring means, validation, measurement error

49 Academic Council Meeting Dedicated to Metrology Day. Dr. Yu.A. Barishev, Associate Professor, Head of Department, Electrical Measurement, SEI FPE, ASMS, Moscow

In advance of the World day of metrology various conferences, symposiums, exhibitions are held in Russia. They are dedicated to the life and work of the great Russian scientist, one of the founders of modern metrology — Mendeleev D.I. On May 24, 2012 ASMS hold an Academic council meeting in St. Petersburg.

Key words: metrology, history, calibration, measure, calibration stall

ПОЛИГРАФИЯ
АСМС

(499) 175 42 91

верстка и дизайн
полиграфических изделий, полноцветная цифровая печать,
ч/б копирование